HISTORY OF THE PYLONS

The eight unique marble reliefs adorning the Pylons at the entrance to the School of Medicine are the work of the noted sculptor Milton Horn. Mr. Horn, born in the Russian Ukraine in 1906, studied the History of Medicine extensively before beginning work on the reliefs in 1954. The white marble tablets were installed in the Pylons in 1956. Seven of the eight plaques depict two milestones each in the History of Medicine, each relief being roughly divided into upper and lower halves. Photographs and descriptions of the sculptures were done by his wife, Estelle Horn, and are reproduced on the following pages.

Top: Hippocrates (460-370 B.C.) "Father of Medicine". Hippocratic medicine's chief concerns were the patient and diagnosis and treatment based upon observed facts.

Top: Pharmacy. The Apothecary. And thou shalt make . . . an ointment compound after the art of the apothecary. Exodus 20:25.

Bottom: Aristotle (384-322 B.C.) Comparative anatomist and embryologist.

Bottom: The Old Testament legislated social hygiene for the good of the individual and the community.

Top: Benvenuto Grassus (circa 12th Century) made studies on the structure of the eye. His writings were the acknowledged text on ophthalmology for 500 years.

Dissection and anatomical illustration in the renaissance when anatomy became a science through dissections of the human corpse by Andreas Vesalius (1514-1564).

Bottom: A Deaconess in a medieval hospital carrying out "Christianity's essential aim . . . the assistance of the sick . . . a work of human and divine pity". Castiglioni

Top: William Harvey (1578-1657), discoverer of the circulation of the blood, studying the flow of blood in the veins.

Top: Ephraim McDowell (1771-1830) treating tumor of the ovary by the first removal of this organ.

Bottom: The Reverend Stephan Hales (1677-1761) making the first measurement of blood pressure, using the direct method on a horse.

Bottom: Ignaz Semmelweis (1818-1865) instituted methods of preventing childbed fever, thus saving the lives of thousands of mothers.

Top: The development of dentistry as a modern science began with the writings and practice of Pierre Fauchard (1678-1761), who is depicted examining a patient.

Top: The American William Beaumont (1785-1853) advanced physiology by his study of the digestive processes in the living stomach of Alexis St. Martin after a healed shotgun wound left a permanent opening.

Bottom: Louis Pasteur (1822-1895) inoculating a dog with rabies virus via a hole bored through the skull — part of an experiment to develop a rabies vaccine.

Bottom: Wilhelm Roentgen (1845-1923) discovered the X-ray in 1895. The panel shows the fluoroscope which uses X-ray in the examination of the interior of the living body.

THE OATH OF HIPPOCRATES

Chosen by the class of 1980 to recite at the Investiture Ceremony in May as they begin their careers in Medicine

I swear by Apollo the physician, by Aesculapius, Hygieia, and Panacea, and by all I hold most sacred that according to my ability and judgement I will keep this oath and this stipulation:

That I will be loyal to the profession of medicine, and just and generous to its members.

That I will lead my life and practice my art in uprightness and honor.

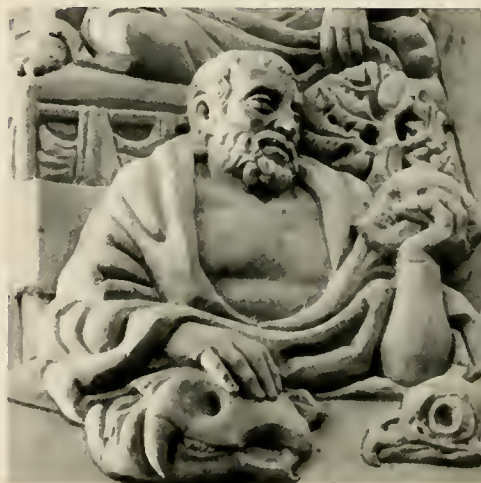

That into whatsoever home I shall enter, it shall be for the good of the sick and the well to the utmost of my power, and that I will hold myself aloof from wrong and corruption and from tempting to vice.

That I will exercise my art solely for the care of my patients and the prevention of disease, and will give no drugs and perform no operation for a criminal purpose and far less suggest such thing.

That whatsoever I shall see or hear of the lives of men which is not fitting to be spoken, I will keep inviolably secret.

While I continue to keep this oath inviolate may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of the art, respected by all men in all times! But, should I trespass and violate this oath, may the reverse be my lot!

Hippocrates (ca. 400 B.C.)

“THE FATHER OF THE WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE”

The Class of 1980 mourns the passing of Dr. E. J. Van Liere, who served and guided the School of Medicine at West Virginia University for 58 years. His first appointment at the University was in 1921 as Professor and Head of the Physiology Department in the School of Medicine. After forming a committee in 1935 to re-secure accreditation for the 2-year school, he became Dean of the School of Medicine. He strove over the years to expand the program to a complete, 4-year medical school, and, largely through his efforts, the State Legislature created the new School of Medicine, along with the Schools of Dentistry and Nursing, in 1951. With the realization of this dream, he retired as Dean in 1960, but continued as Professor of Physiology, and was active in research and scholarly writing until the time of his death.

Dr. Van Liere gave much to our Medical Center. His dedication and scholarly example will be a continuing source of inspiration to us throughout our professional careers.

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA

More than 75 years ago, six medical students at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Chicago organized an honorary medical society to recognize excellence in their peers and teachers. Thus Alpha Omega Alpha was born, with the expressed purpose of "... promotion of scholarship and research in medical schools, the encouragement of a high standard of character and conduct among medical students and graduates, and the recognition of high attainment in medical science, practice, and related fields". AOA membership of the West Virginia University School of Medicine constitutes those students and faculty who have distinguished themselves in the pursuit of their medical education, or who have attained leadership in the medical profession. When you can afford any car, why Riviera?

The 1980 Buick Riviera.

That's a good question. And there are probably as many different answers as there are Riviera owners - those who chose Riviera when they could have purchased any car from anywhere. Maybe it's the front-wheel drive. Maybe the styling. Or the ride. Or the long list of standard equipment. Maybe it's just the spirit of the Riviera.

Whatever the answer is, Riviera seems to attract those individuals who want luxury cars that suit their own discerning tastes.

Why not stop in, and see if that includes you?

3 GOOD, SOUND REASONS TO JOIN THE AMA

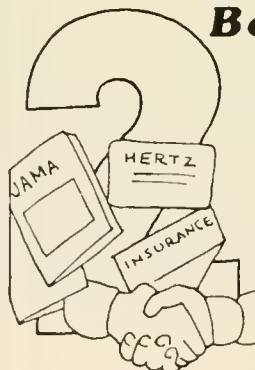

1 Effective Representation

There may have been times when you've encountered problems with your institution, or you've wanted to see changes or improvements in your curriculum, or in patient care, or in health care delivery. But where could you go for help with your problem or to get a hearing for your ideas? There really wasn't any place. But now there is: The AMA Student Business Section (SBS). It is your representative assembly through which the AMA and its resources are directed to the problems you and your colleagues wish to have addressed. Through the SBS, students have direct input and participation in AMA policy-making.

2 Membership Benefits

Your membership provides a broad range of professional as well as personal benefits. Those of particular importance are:

- JAMA, American Medical News, and one of nine specialty journals
- Low-cost insurance programs—group life, excess major medical, disability, accidental death and dismemberment, and supplement in-hospital insurance

- AMA Physicians' Placement Service
- Starting your practice workshops, negotiations seminars

3 Special Dues

Recognizing the financial burdens you already carry, the AMA established special reduced membership dues. Students may join for only $15. (Regular AMA dues are $250.) Join today. The AMA needs and wants your membership, input, and participation.

MILLIONS OF TONS OF COAL ENERGY ARE PILED ON THE GROUND WITH NO MARKET WHILE AMERICA FACES AN ENERGY CRISIS.

To look at all this coal ready for market and no place to go, you wouldn't know we had an energy crisis... or that the cost of foreign energy is causing inflation that hurts everyone... or that the ONLY guaranteed source of energy America has is coal... or that our dependence on that same foreign source of energy can all but bring America's industry to a dead stop.

ISN'T IT TIME AMERICA WAKES UP?

We've wasted years and literally billions of dollars... dollars that come out of every taxpayer's pocket... avoiding the obvious, the most economical answer: COAL.

With reserves that will last America 200 years and beyond, when will it be recognized that
